Dear Ms. Dixon:

- 1 I think the Yucca Mountain Project is a bad idea. Instead of other states sending their radioactive waste to Nevada, it should be allotted. First, every U.S. citizen will be allotted a tube of radioactive waste. They then have the option of keeping the waste or they can pay a private firm to hold the waste.

One might say this is a bad idea, but if one looks at the Yucca Mountain Project, one can see that they are similar and they both threaten people's lives.

- 2 A better place to put the waste would be on an island. One of the U.S. territories would be good.

As you can see, I have no reasonable thoughts on this issue, but possibly one of my ideas will create more ideas.

Sincerely yours,

Lori A. Kakishita
